British Drive Rommel Army Back

Induction of Men in Class 1-B Will Be Started Aug. 1

They Will Replace A-1 Soldiers in Army's Overhead Setup

Washington, July 3—(AP)—The Army announced intention today of starting the induction of regular quotas of men placed in the deferred 1-B selective service class because of minor physical defects.

Beginning August 1, men with only one eye or complete deafness in one ear, among others, will be inducted for limited military service, provided they otherwise meet requirements.

They will be assigned to duty with corps area service commands and the war department overhead organization, and thereby release an almost equal number of fully qualified soldiers for service with task forces.

Induction, under the new standards, "will be limited to those with minor physical defects who are able to bring to the Army a useful vocation which was followed in civil life," the war department said.

Men found upon re-examination to be qualified for full military service will be inducted as 1-A registrants.

Among those now classified as 1-B who would be eligible under the new ruling for limited service status are men: whose weight and chest circumference do not meet 1-A standards but do not fall in class 4; who have minimum 20-400 sight in one or both eyes if correctable with glasses to 20-40 in either eye; whose hearing in one or both ears is not less than 5-20, with complete deafness in one ear permitted if hearing in the other is 10-20 or better; who have insufficient teeth if the defect is correctable by dentures.

Define "Essential" Jobs

Meanwhile war manpower sources said today that rosters of essential civilian activities and "critical war occupations" would be published about July 15 to establish a definite guide for military deferment.

The United States Employment Service is preparing the lists in collaboration with the War Production Board, the War, Navy and Agricultural departments, and with the other government agencies, as a part of the general program to keep men with critical skills at their work benches.

By direction of Manpower Chairman Paul V. McNutt, copies of the lists will be sent to all local draft boards, and "to the extent required for the maintenance of essential activities, individuals who are engaged in essential occupations in essential activities" will be deferred from military service.

This does not mean, however, that every man of draft age working in one of the occupations listed will be automatically deferred, since the selective service act definitely prohibits "group" deferments.

Each man in such essential clas-

33 Men Lost in 33rd. Sinking in Atlantic

(By The Associated Press) The sinking of another United Nations vessel—this time taking the lives of 33 of its 47-man crew disclosed today by the Navy, raising to 333 the unofficial Associated Press tabulations of sinkings in the western Atlantic.

The 14 survivors of the torpedoing of a medium sized British cargo ship said 22 either burned to death in their bunks or lost their lives when two lifeboats were destroyed by fire. The survivors who got clear in another lifeboat said a submarine fired the ship with two torpedoes in the Gulf of Mexico last Monday.

The stranger's description fits that of a man who last week took the Tim Sullivan car in Dixon. He was described as being more than six feet all, slender of build and wearing work clothing.

German-Born Cafe Owner is Found Guilty of Treason

Detroit, July 3—(AP)—German-born Max Stephan sat in a prison cell today convicted of the highest crime in the land—treason—while Federal Judge Arthur J. Tuttle pondered the punishment, which could be execution.

Judge Tuttle had promised sentence "very shortly" after a jury yesterday finished one hour and 23 minutes of deliberation with the declaration, "We find the defendant guilty as charged," to a courtroom packed and silent.

Stephan, a naturalized citizen, was accused of 12 overt acts of assistance to a fleeing German war prisoner.

At Stephan's chairside was his wife, a constant companion during the trial. She gripped his elbow. Earlier, when Federal District Attorney John C. Lehr had called her husband a "black traitor with a black heart," she had wept into a handkerchief.

First in U. S. History
Government Attorney John W. Babcock said Stephan was the first man to be convicted of treason in the history of the United States. The possible penalties confronting the 49-year-old cafe operator range from five years imprisonment or $10,000 fine, or both, to death on the gallows.

It was Stephan's assistance to Oberleutnant Hans Peter Krug, an escaped prisoner from the Bowdoinville (Ont.) prison camp, on April 18 and 19 that provided grounds for his indictment and conviction.

Krug, himself had been brought to court by the government, and he freely testified that Stephan had given him money, food, clothing, entertainment and finally a bus ticket to Chicago.

Krug, member of the German air force, had testified that he had come to Detroit, then proceeded to Chicago and New York and finally was captured by FBI agents in San Antonio, Tex., while trying to return to fight again for Hitler.

British and Canadian Warships Join U. S. in Hunt for Submarines

Washington, July 3—(AP)—British and Canadian warships have joined with United States vessels in an intensified campaign against submarine depredations in American waters.

A navy announcement, issued last night as the announced toll of ships sunk in the Atlantic and Caribbean passed the 330 mark, told of the new development.

"In accordance with the allied policy of distributing strength where it can best serve the cause of the United Nations, many British and Canadian corvettes, destroyers and fully-equipped anti-submarine vessels have for some time been operating with our forces in the Atlantic," it said.

"The vessels have been operating both on escort duty and in the campaign against enemy submarines along our eastern seaboard."

Woman "Informer" Shot by Two Free Frenchmen

Vichy, Unoccupied France, July 3—(AP)—Two bicyclists shot and seriously wounded the woman manager of a Paris apartment house in an attack which police termed a reprisal for informing German authorities on subversive activities of a tenant, reports reaching here today said.

It was the first recorded shooting of a woman in the long series of assaults against pro-Nazi collaborators.

French civil and German military law requires apartment house employees to report suspicious activities of tenants. Large rewards including money and extra food ration coupons have been offered by German officials for spying on individuals.

Additional reports from occupied France told of the arrest of 12 youths at Deziers in a raid on a clandestine print shop where anti-German leaflets and stickers were being turned out.

219 U. S. Representatives Get X Gas Ration Cards

Washington, July 3—(AP)—More than half of the membership of the house, 219 representatives, obtained "X" ration cards in Washington for unlimited purchases of gasoline, files of the district rationing administration show.

Illinois representatives who obtained the cards were Mitchell, Beam, Democrats; Day, Stratton, Dewey, Padlock, Reed, Leo E. Allen, Anton J. Johnson, Chipfield, Arends, Wheat, Bishop, Republicans.

Donald Blackburn Granted Probation by Judge G. Dixon

Manslaughter Hearing is Ended by Decision Here This Morn

Donald Blackburn of this city was admitted to probation by Judge George C. Dixon in the Lee county Circuit court today at the termination of manslaughter proceedings arising from the death April 29 of Charles Robert Ball from injuries sustained when the bicycle he was riding was struck by an automobile driven by Blackburn. Attorney Edward A. Jones represented Blackburn in the proceedings before the court.

In reviewing the arguments before announcing a decision today, Judge Dixon said:

"The record in this case shows conclusively that this defendant has been reared under unfortunate and demoralizing home environments, of a nature which would obviously lead a growing youth towards a criminal career unless properly restrained. There is sufficient justification, in the belief of the possibility of rehabilitation and reform, to justify giving the defendant one chance to reform under the advantages made possible by the probation act, which permits the court to retain jurisdiction of the case for five years under the circumstances existing in this case."

The court ordered Blackburn to stand before the bar as the provisions of the longest and most stringent probation ever recorded in Lee county were pronounced sentence as follows:

Terms of Probation
"That he shall not, during the period of probation, violate any criminal law of the state of Illinois, or any ordinance of any municipality of this state."

"That he will not leave the state of Illinois without consent of this court."

"That he shall report to the probation officer of this court once each week, at times and places to be determined by the probation officer, regarding his whereabouts, conduct and employment, and furnish such information as may be required of him to the probation officer, and that he shall appear

Bremen Is Blasted Heavily Overnight

London, July 3—(AP)—The air ministry announced today that Bremen, German port attacked for three times in a week, was blasted overnight again by a powerful force of RAF bombers.

Thirteen raiders failed to return.

"The weather was good and many fires were left burning," the air ministry said. "One enemy night fighter was destroyed."

Scores of Canadian pilots joined the British bombardiers in the attack on Bremen and said it was the "most satisfying" of recent raids.

Fires were burning so fiercely when they reached the target that "it was like aiming at a patchwork quilt," they said.

Nazi air fields in Belgium and the Netherlands were singled out as the targets of other raids and coastal command Hudson bombers attacked German shipping off the Dutch coast, it was announced.

The thrust at Bremen was the third following up a mass attack by more than 1,000 planes upon its docks, warehouses, factories, railways and other targets the night of June 26, which followed similar four-figure raids against Cologne and Essen.

In view of recent estimates that losses in the night raids upon Germany ranged about four per cent, the announcement that 13 bombers failed to return would indicate about 325 planes were involved last night.

Illinois Northern Utilities Co. To Share in Refund of $6,377,913

The Illinois Northern Utilities company will share in payments totaling $6,377,913, representing refunds which the Natural Gas Pipeline company of America was required by a 1940 federal power commission order to make to its 15 public utility customers, the bulk of whose business is in the Chicago area.

The Associated Press, in a dispatch from Chicago, reported that the United States Circuit Court of Appeals yesterday received six checks, totaling $6,377,913, from the pipeline company.

Backfired

Memphis, Tenn., July 3—(AP)—A psychological propaganda bombing attack, backfired today on police and newspapers, giving them a busy day.

A lagging scrap rubber drive was the cause. Turning to psychology for aid, drive officials hit on a plan of dropping swastika bedecked leaflets from planes, urging Memphians to keep their rubber "and help hasten the day when the new order comes to the United States". The leaflets were "signed" by Hitler, Mussolini and Emperor Hirohito.

As the first handful of pamphlets fluttered to earth, switchboards at the police station and newspaper offices were flooded with calls. "Send a policeman quick," many a voice shouted. "Nazi propaganda is falling all over our neighborhood."

Food Production Program Is Facing Disruption Today

Washington, July 3—(AP)—War food production programs faced a disruption today as Congress went into a recess until Monday without acting on the agriculture department's $680,000,000 appropriation bill.

The department, which has instituted plans for record production of food for the military and domestic needs of the United Nations, has been without funds since Wednesday, when the new fiscal year started.

Senator Russell (D-Ga.), floor manager of the annual departmental supply bill, told colleagues it was his belief that failure of Congress to resolve differences on the measure would "simply tie up all the department's activities" until appropriation measure is passed.

The department continued to function in a nominal way, but officials made no commitments. Budget officials were in a quandary.

Payroll Due July 8

They were particularly perturbed about a payday for 80,000-odd employees coming up on July 8. They said that unless funds were voted by July 6, checks could be made out only for the last week of June.

The house attempted vainly yesterday to provide funds. It passed a new appropriation bill carrying items on which both houses were in agreement, and granting money for a two-month period for agencies involved in disputes. A third bill was to be submitted later when an agreement was reached on the points of difference.

The senate balked at this measure when Russell pointed out that it carried a provision which the senate had twice rejected before—a ban on sales of government-owned crops at below parity prices.

Administration leaders had warned that such a ban would cause President Roosevelt to veto the bill. The agriculture department contends that it should be permitted to sell wheat at sub-parity prices to encourage the largest possible production of meat, dairy and poultry products.

Roosevelt Takes Hand

Roosevelt stepped into the scrap today to assail "pressure group tactics" and declare that the only real issue involved was "whether the government should be free to use its feed resources to produce food for wartime effort."

He strongly supported the administration's demand that congress authorize sale of 125,000,000 bushels of wheat for feeding purposes at prices under parity.

Roosevelt gave his views in a letter to leaders of seven farm, labor and religious organizations, who had written to him June 29 in behalf of the wheat proposal.

Rockford Blackout Attempt "Successful"

Rockford, Ill., July 3—(AP)—Winnebago county held its first blackout last night when for 30 minutes lights were dimmed in all business places and homes, while defense plants were allowed to turn on lights after five minutes.

Maj. Edward T. Johnson, observer for the Office of Civilian Defense, termed the experiment "very successful."

Violent Battle Is Raging Again West of El Alamein Post

Defenders of Egypt in Eleventh Hour Rally Strike Fiercely

BY ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press War Editor

Britain's Egyptian armies clashed with the axis in violent battle west of El Alamein again today after driving Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's Africa corps into at least temporary retreat in the three-day-old "Battle of the Bottleneck."

Dispatches from the front said the British, rallying at the eleventh hour, were striking furiously at the axis invaders.

Details were lacking as to whether Rommel had returned after withdrawing last night or whether the British, seizing the initiative, were pursuing the axis forces.

A bulletin from British Imperial headquarters said Rommel's army "withdrew to the west, leaving our positions intact," after a fierce tank battle last evening at El Alamein, less than 70 miles west of Alexandria.

Dispatches said the German-Italian mechanized armies retreated three or four miles to regroup after the initial repulse.

Italian headquarters have claimed the capture of El Alamein, which was described as the last British stronghold guarding the great Alexandria naval base.

First Axis Setback
Front-line dispatches said the twilight tank battle in the desert, the first major setback for Gen. Rommel's armies in their sweep toward the Nile, climaxed bitter all-day fighting in which the invaders launched a general attack against El Alamein.

"Our mobile and armored forces counter-attacked the enemy flanks," a British communique said, inflicting such heavy losses that Rommel called a retreat.

"Throughout the battle our light bombers, fighter-bombers and fighters were employed in increasing numbers and heavily attacked enemy concentrations southwest of El Alamein," the British said.

Italy's high command, locating the scene of battle as "southeast of El Alamein," asserted that 2,000 more British troops had been captured and declared axis operations were developing favorably.

Nazi Claims Disputed
The British communique reporting the German-Italian invaders had withdrawn west of El Alamein disputed the axis claim yesterday that Rommel's forces had broken through the main British position.

El Alamein is the northern anchor of the 35-mile British line protecting the "bottleneck" gateway to Alexandria. The line extends from the Mediterranean

Allies Raid Jap-held Dili Twice

Allied Headquarters, Australia, July 3—(AP)—A double night bombing of Japanese-held Dili, in Portuguese Timor, concentrated on enemy-occupied buildings, the wireless station and the airfield, was announced by General MacArthur's headquarters today.

Two buildings received direct hits and several fires were started, the war bulletin said. General MacArthur's communique yesterday also had announced an attack on Dili, which lies 500 miles across the Timor Sea from Darwin.

Today's war bulletin revised upward the number of enemy casualties inflicted by the commando raid last week end on Salamaua, New Guinea, but gave no new figure. The first estimate was that the allied land raiders inflicted some 60 casualties at the cost of two men wounded.

Ashton Man's Auto Is Destroyed by Flames

What was believed to have intended for a playful prank led to the destruction of an automobile belonging to Wayne Butler at Ashton yesterday afternoon. The owner was reported to have loaned the car to a friend Wednesday evening and it was later left parked on the main street in the business district.

Later the car was driven off the main street and left standing near an elevator south of the Northwestern tracks. Yesterday afternoon it burst into flames and was completely destroyed. The Ashton fire department was summoned but the fire had gained such headway that it could not be extinguished.

Independence Day Will Be Safe and Sane Most Places

War Plants Will Hum Through Holiday; Fireworks Out

(By The Associated Press)

A nation fighting to protect the freedom it won in other wars celebrates tomorrow its first war-time Fourth of July in a quarter-century under conditions that may make it really "safe and sane".

Most war factories will hum on, many fireworks have been abandoned and, on the populous eastern seaboard, gasoline rationing will keep the greater part of the area's 10,000,000 motorists off the highways.

True, many of the 54,000,000 residents of the 17 gas-starved Atlantic coast states plan to make their usual holiday trips by train or bus, and some municipalities—mostly in the midwest—are to stage huge fireworks displays, but travel generally will be in the form of parades and fireworks in the form of speeches.

Army warnings that fireworks displays and large gatherings might present opportunities for token air raids and for saboteurs and actual bans on such celebrations and actual bans on such celebrations on the east and west coasts as well as in the Gulf states indicated that those areas would observe the holiday quietly.

In the nation's Capital, Washington's annual municipal fireworks display was cancelled and it was announced that work would go on in all government offices connected with the war effort.

Many Celebrations

Inland, however, in some central and southwestern states, where the danger of possible air raids is less than that on the coasts, many big events were planned to attract great throngs of celebrants, unhampered by gas rationing.

Typical of these will be Minneapolis' annual American Legion show at Powderhorn park, where 200,000 are expected to attend an all-day program featuring the

Fire Destroys Garage, Barn on Bolhken Farm

Several buildings were totally destroyed by fire last night at 10 o'clock on the beautiful Alva Bolhken farm north of Dixon on state route 26, across the road from the Plum Hollow golf course. The large barn, containing about 25 tons of baled hay, the corn crib, garage and a small shed were consumed by the flames.

The origin of the fire had not been determined today, but when the flames were first discovered by members of the family the ground floor of the large barn was burning fiercely. The community fire truck responded to a call and protected the residence but the flames had gained such headway that none of the burning buildings could be saved. The loss was reported to have been partially covered by insurance.

The War Today!

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Wide World War Analyst
(Telegraph Special Service)

With exceeding caution one observes that latest reports from Cairo indicate easement of the allied position in the bloody battle for Egypt as the result of a sudden seizing of the initiative by the British in a fierce counter-attack against the axis flanks.

This action is said to have thrown back Nazi Field Marshal Rommel's main assault against the British position at El Alamein with severe losses, and to have forced him to fall back to the west. The Imperial positions were left holding firmly.

This is encouraging in that it shows the British finally have acquired the reinforcements necessary for a counter stroke. It is even more encouraging to see that allied commander General Sir Claude Auchinleck was on his toes and ready to seize the opportunity. However, we must remember that the battle isn't yet finished that Rommel is one of the most resourceful leaders of our time, and that our danger is still terribly grave.

This counter-attack, which developed even as the conflict was swirling madly through the burning desert sands, was a brilliant tactical move by the canny Scotsman in whose hands the fate of Egypt rests. It was one of those fast-thinking actions for which Rommel himself has become famous.

What happened apparently was this, to judge from very incomplete accounts thus far received: The battle front lay roughly north and south, between El Alamein on the coast and the great Qattara depression some 35 miles down in the desert. The British line was anchored at El Alamein.

Rommel decided to make his main attack on the British concentration in the neighborhood of El Alamein, with the idea of crushing the defenders in a swift frontal thrust and opening a direct route to the great naval base of Alexandria some 65 miles further west.

Imbibing Oklahoma Cowboys Tackle Lion on Public Road; Capture It

Muskogee, Okla., July 3—(AP)—Arresting a tipsy cowboy, Policeman James Hunter made a routine search of his prisoner's automobile.

He raised the lid of the trunk compartment, then jumped back with a howl.

Inside, securely tied, was a big lion, alive and growling.

"Where did you get that thing?" Hunter demanded.

"Why, me and John just roped it down the road."

Hunter, who hadn't heard of a lion in these parts since the last circus train went through, snorted.

"I'll tell you," he said. "You come down to the jail and sleep it off and tell your story again in the morning."

Next day the cowboy took a look at the lion, turned a little pale, but stuck to his story.

Tall Car Thief Is Active Here Again

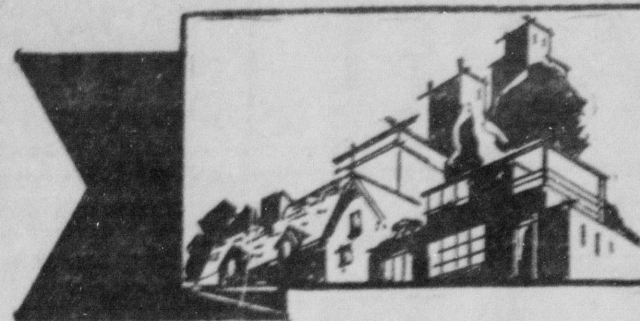

A bold auto bandit, who has been quite active in Dixon and vicinity over the past few weeks, was believed to have reappeared last night and added another car to his list of thefts. Lester Hill, living east of Dixon on route 3, reported at 6:15 o'clock this morning, the loss of his car which was taken from the garage during the night.

The supposed bandit was reported to have been seen attempting to enter the garage on another farm about one mile west of the Hill place last night and when a member of the family went into the house and turned on the light to load a shotgun, the stranger disappeared. At the Hill farm he was said to have filled the gas tank of the car at a pump before driving out of the yard. The car bore license plates 1-265-739.

The stranger's description fits that of a man who last week took the Tim Sullivan car in Dixon. He was described as being more than six feet all, slender of build and wearing work clothing.

TODAY'S BATHROOMS

New Fixtures Permit Smaller Baths

By Paul T. Haagen

Changes and improvements in bathrooms that have occurred throughout the past thirty-five years have come so rapidly and the results are so perfect that today the bathroom is one of the most beautiful rooms in any new home. Not only has sanitation kept pace with these improvements but color and style and form have been taken into consideration by the best designers of the country.

If the home owner needs a new bathroom, now is the time to modernize that portion of the house. He may proceed with assurance that if he brings his equipment up to date it is likely that there will be little change to be made in the fixtures in the future.

Bathrooms may be modernized from the old one or new bathrooms may be placed in unused closets or under the stairs and it is surprising how small a bathroom may be and still be efficient if one takes into consideration the smaller fixtures on the market.

It is therefore possible to have a master bathroom and a second bathroom of a smaller size.

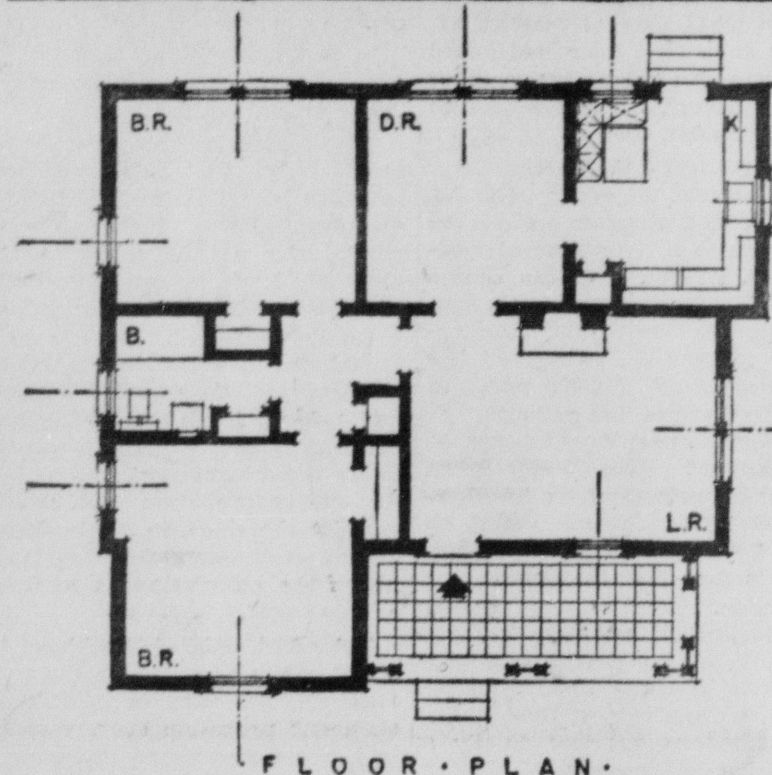

If there is little space in which to put the bathroom, why not consider a shower bath rather than a tub? It will reduce the number of square feet required in the bathroom.

The three important fixtures required in a bathroom may be installed in a floor space 5 by 6 feet. The standard tub is 5 1/2 feet long but there are 5-foot and even 4 1/2-foot tubs. Also shower baths may be had as compact as 30 by 30 inches. You may secure a lavatory in a number of sizes so that it will fit into almost any space that is available.

In buying a shower bath, insist upon a good shower-head as the shower part of the fixture is very essential and wears out so it will have to be serviced unless a good shower-head is purchased in the beginning.

Floors for bathrooms should be sanitary and easily cleaned. Linoleum, rubber tile or porcelain tile make the best floors. For walls tile, linoleum or just cement plaster enameled will give a satisfactory finish. Tile is the most expensive although in the long run it will prove the least costly.

Financed on FHA Plan, This Home Is Being Paid for in Monthly Installments of $26

FLOOR PLAN

This attractive, brick veneer house offers a high degree of convenience and livability because of the compact way in which it was planned. It should be noted that the kitchen is well removed from the bedrooms, and that there is no direct connection between the living room and the former. This treatment is regarded as excellent, since it removes the possibility of cooking odors seeping into these rooms. Located in the deep South, this property has a valuation of $4,850, including the cost of the land. It was financed with a Federal Housing Administration insured mortgage of $4,300. The average monthly payments on a 25-year mortgage of this amount, exclusive of taxes and hazard insurance, total approximately $26.

attractive materials now on the market. In partitioning off the basement, it is advisable, where possible, to have the stairway lead directly to the recreation or play room so that guests will not have to pass through the furnace room.

PAINT

A house owner who is considering the painting of his property sometimes is in doubt whether to use ready-mixed paint or paint mixed to order. Good paint is good whether ready mixed or mixed to order. Vice versa, bad paint is bad!

The purchaser's main safeguard is to purchase standard goods of known reliability, whether he buys ready-mixed in cans or white lead, zinc, oil and colors to be mixed by his painter.

Owners are sometimes influenced, when purchasing paint or ingredients, by price but first economy is likely to prove costly. A brand of white lead costing a few cents per pound less than some other well known brand may be inferior in quality. It may have received less grinding, it frequently contains a larger percentage of foreign matter. Also one can pay different prices for linseed oil, boiled oil being more expensive than raw oil and the former producing a better paint job.

David Farragut said, "Damn the torpedoes, go ahead," at Mobile Bay.

OLD BASEMENTS REVIVED

Playroom Is Valuable Addition to the Modern Home

By Paul T. Haagen

The long neglected basement is coming back to life. Many home owners throughout the country are transforming this space which in the past has been little used into an attractive playroom or recreation room or into living quarters. These transformations have been made possible by the new types of heating equipment now on the market which eliminate dirt and dust and free much of the space formerly used by fuel storage to be used for other purposes.

Many small homes have a hot air system of heating and with the old-fashioned furnaces the pipes are a hindrance in converting the basement into an attractive room but nowadays with the new air-conditioning plants, the pipes may be close to the ceiling, thereby freeing much of the basement space for the recreation or play room.

Improvements to the basement can now be made under the terms of the Federal Housing Act. The first step in building a modern basement is, of course, a solid floor and complete waterproofing of foundation walls. This done, the walls and floors may be painted or covered with a number of

YOUR HOME

A Unit of the Nation's Greatest Asset

Since the founding of our country over three hundred years ago homes and real property have been recognized always as the nation's greatest asset. From the early Colonial days the American people have fought to establish and preserve their homes. Our history is full of examples extending from early Puritan and Virginia settlements to the Western frontier. The American people have toiled long and arduously to bring a living from the soil and establish a foothold on the land.

With this heritage, we cherish our homes above all other tangible belongings. We count the home our most precious possession.

Into this asset have been poured the accumulated savings of a people for over three hundred years. Today the value of our greatest national asset is threatened. During the past few years the ravages of depression have made serious inroads upon real property. Owners desiring to make necessary repairs consistent with good upkeep have been unable to do so because of curtailed income or their inability to secure sufficient credit. This resulted in a serious situation.

Today there are millions of buildings in this country in need of repair and with a good steady job, a small amount of cash or a building lot or a home in which the home owner has an equity, he can build or modernize his home through credit facilities from almost any loaning agency.

It is a very wise thing to look at your present property, check it over thoroughly and see what should be done to bring it up to today's standard. It can be done at reasonable rates and this also applies to the building of a new home.

Remodeling Is Easy; Check Your Home Now for Repairs

Owners of old homes with large unused porches and with other features common to houses built some years ago, can easily have alterations made that will make their homes thoroughly modern and attractive in appearance. There is hardly any limit to the improvements that may be made. It may be that an old house needs to be beautified and modernize its appearance with a new, attractive roof that can be put right on over the old roof, or a coat of paint and a few modifications of the lines and architectural features such as the dormers, porch columns and the front door or entrance.

Repairs to porch floors, railings, steps and supports will minimize the danger of personal injury and add to the exterior appearance. If the porch is out-of-date, it may be altered, converted into a room or removed. If inadequate, it may be enlarged.

Partitions, preferably of fire-proof material, built around the furnace and coal bins will render the rest of the basement more useful for laundry, food storage, workshop or recreation activities. Brightly painted and well equipped with shelves and built-in table, the basement will become a more pleasant place in which to work. Additional windows will add to the appearance and help to keep the dust from the upstairs rooms.

We have in stock here at the Home Lumber and Coal Co. all the supplies and materials that would be needed in any of the above mentioned repairs and remodeling. Our years of experience, too, will be a valuable aid in helping you with the planning of this work.

And one other thing we ought to mention. If you are looking for a little extra revenue, why not consider finishing off the attic or some other place like the extra room that is just used to store things in and rent the room.

Dr. Miley Remodeling Downtown Office

Dr. James M. Miley, popular optometrist, has been making several improvements in his office. He has had several partitions moved with new doorways built in. This remodeling has made his office much more convenient and is certainly an improvement that he should be proud of.

We are glad that we were of service to Dr. Miley and we would like to take this opportunity of saying that if there are any other offices or business buildings that are in need of remodeling or repairing, we can furnish the supplies and specifications or plans to make your office or place of business into the most modern quarters.

New Lunchroom Soon to Be Open

Another addition to the services of the Dixon Transit Company offices and waiting room in the Watts garage and bus terminal on Third street will be the opening of a lunch room in the very near future. The contractors are still working on the remodeling of the old business office into a modern room which will be the lunch room. This speaks well of the energetic operators of this enterprise and we wish them a successful opening.

It certainly will be convenient to patrons of the busses to enjoy the lunch room while waiting on the bus schedules.

GEMS OF THOUGHT — EXPECTANCY

All earthly delights are sweeter in expectation than in enjoyment; but all spiritual pleasures more in fruition than in expectation.

—Feltham.

We part more easily with what we possess than with our expectations of what we hope for: expectation always goes beyond enjoyment.

—Home.

When the destination is desirable expectation speeds our progress.

—Mary Baker Eddy

With regard to one's work the desirable feeling is always to expect to succeed and never to think you have succeeded.

—Thomas Arnold

The little done vanishes from the sight of him who looks forward to what is still to do.

Goethe.

By every part of our nature we clasp things above us, one after another, not for the sake of remaining where we take hold, but that we may go higher.

A Thought for Today

Righteousness keepeth him that is upright in the way; but wickedness over-throweth the sinner.—Proverbs 13:8.

God whose gifts in gracious flood unto all who seek are sent, only asks you to be good, and is content.—Victor Hugo.

Happy Birthday to the U. S.

At this moment we are going through one of our periods of gloom, as the result of a series of setbacks by the axis powers. We are inclined to feel that this, the 166th birthday of the United States of America, is the most critical since the first.

That is not a bad national psychology. Surely it is much better than overconfidence.

A man who possesses real intestinal fortitude fights best when the odds seem against him. So does such a nation. With all our many faults, the people of the United States have no rabbit blood in them.

But, on this birthday, let's not be too pessimistic. Let's remember that, actually, our forefathers passed through many Fourth's of July when there was more cause for gloom than we can find today.

Forget, if you choose, the entire period of the Revolution itself, when our citizen-soldiers suffered one disastrous defeat after another, underwent privations such as we today can not comprehend, but kept their faith until by sheer force of will power they won.

Remember 1814, when the nation's 38th birthday saw our fortunes at so low an ebb that 51 days later invading British actually burned the White House in Washington.

Pass on to 1861, when Independence Day found the North stunned by the disaster of the first Bull Run.

In 1864 the Fourth of July saw Sherman completing his march to the sea—a military achievement for the north, but one of the saddest moments in American history as we look back upon that deadly war of brother against brother.

In 1917, Germany had begun unrestricted submarine warfare and had forced us into the first World War, from which Russia's might had been withdrawn by the first revolution. In 1918 the allies had stopped Germany's march to Paris, and were holding on by their teeth, wondering whether another and this time irresistible blow might be struck before we could rush enough strength to France to turn the tide. The French, without whom we were licked, were all ready to collapse.

These were truly critical Fourth's of July in war times. In comparison, the misfortunes the United Nations have suffered during the past few weeks are negligible.

From our defeats thus far we can, if we will,
learn many lessons which will help toward eventual victory. Not the least is that moral victories, potential armies, armaments on the production lines,
contempt for the enemy, strategic withdrawals, ostrich-like confidence unbacked by deeds, do not win wars.

In the midst of these defeats, we still are turning the direction of the war. It may take two years, or three or four or five, but we know now we can win.

Therefore, Happy Birthday to the U. S.

The Direction Is Up

Some hifalutin' arguments are taking place in regard to social security and the proposal now being advanced that the benefits should be increased.

At first, you will remember, the government proposed to establish a large heap of money out of which benefits would be paid to the eligible aged.
This money was to be the same as that secured from payroll taxes. But it was shown that the heap of money would be so large as to embarrass the government, if not wreck something.

So, as though in answer to critics, the government began spending the receipts from payroll taxes, and storing away bonds. It seems that these bonds can be paid only by further taxes—but maybe we are wrong.

What we wanted to say is that from now on,
there will be continued agitation for larger social security payments, because unless a great many experts miss their guesses, prices are going to rise.
In fact, they already have risen considerably beyond what they were when the social security act was designed. The old-timers will be beholden to the politicians for their incomes—a thing which was not true in "them good old days" when people were taught to save their own money for a rainy day.

Another Union

After all the evidences of organized labor's business-as-usual attitude during this war, it is a pleasure to find another item for the credit side of the ledger—an item concerning deeds, not hifalutin'
words that stop short of sacrifice for democracy.

The International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union, with more than 300,000 members, an outstanding opponent of Communism in labor ranks, has some 70,000 idle members in New York, center of the nation's garment industry. So its executive board, with too rare realism, has voted to waive peace-time wage scales, and work for Uncle Sam for less.

Patriotism is combined with common sense. The government will save money, employers can operate their shops, unionists will have work.

Silver Grab

Silver, one of two metals capable of replacing copper (the other, aluminum, itself is scarce) is worth 35 cents on the market. The treasury is obligated by law to buy all domestic silver that is offered, at 71 cents an ounce, and forbidden to sell for less than $1.29 an ounce. If this artificial support were withdrawn, silver probably would bring about 155 cents an ounce (troy) on the market.

Now Senator McCarran of Nevada proposes that the Treasury be required to pay a full dollar an ounce for all domestic offerings, to encourage production of a metal already so expensive and so protected that we can't use it toward winning the war.

ESCAPE

CHAPTER IX

FOR the next few minutes they alternated their conversations between whispers and loud talk.
"If I only had a gun," he whispered despairingly, "I might do something."

Her eyes lighted with a smile.
Without making a comment she put her hand into her purse and drew out the small automatic. He was astonished, but his fingers closed over it and her hand too.
Forgetting to be watchful he exclaimed:

"Did I ever tell you, Judith Kingly, that you are the most wonderful creature on earth and the loveliest?"

He snatched a kiss from the upturned face. She drew back quickly, her heart racing and her eyes soft. "Tom," she murmured.
A door suddenly opened and Karl came in, followed by some men.

"Ready to talk, Burke?" demanded Karl.

Judith realized the men had been waiting for some sign that she was not a stranger to Tom,
and now his words had given them their cue. They knew now he would be willing to sell the plane's secrets to save her. In the end they probably would kill them both. She stared in mounting terror at them.

"Are you ready to talk, Mr.
Burke?" Karl repeated. His voice was a bit high as if he were exasperated at having to ask his question again.

Burke's lean, suntanned face gave no hint of his thoughts, but Judith detected the stubborn set of his jaws.

"I have nothing to say now, or at any other time."

"No? Perhaps in a little while, my friend, you will be glad to tell all I want to know." There was a savageness in Karl's eyes and his hands drew into tight fists at his side. "We have ways of making men talk."

Karl glanced at his watch.
Heavy, his eyes narrowed and watchful, focused a gun on Judith and Tom.

A swift urge came over Judith to throw off her fear and break
the awful silence in the room.
Once again, her fighting spirit soared to her rescue.

"I haven't had anything to eat, yet," she said suddenly. The men were startled by the calmness of her tone. "You did promise me food." She tried her winsome smile, but it had no effect on Karl. Heavy's mouth twisted at the corner with the beginning of a grin, but only for a moment.
Then his face became the hard mask of a moment before.

A man standing back of Judith spoke: "The dame is made of ice."
She turned slowly and saw the man who had kidnapped her in the taxi.

Karl said curtly: "Bring in the tray of food," and the man back of her moved away to carry out the order.

NOT once did Heavy relax his vigil with the gun. Burke kept his gaze fastened on Karl though Judith knew he was watching the other man from the corner of his keen eyes. Tom had her gun and she knew he was waiting an opportunity to use it.
It would be suicide to try anything now. Her thoughts made her shiver. The blond spy with his close-cropped hair gave her a curious glance.

"Cold?"

Judith looked at him but did not offer to answer his question.
Instead, she turned her blue eyes on Tom. He moved his steady gaze to her face for an instant. Tom still loved her, she realized, though no word passed between them.

"Your nose is shiny," Tom said critically.

Judith's mouth fell open and for a minute she had the mad desire to slap him. Burning with anger, she turned her back on him and opened her purse, drawing out a vanity case. She applied the puff to her nose with more vigor than was necessary.

"Better?" she asked acidly while the captors looked on slightly pu-zled at the act going on before them.

He shrugged. "A little."

When the food was before her,
the men stood guard like so many buzzards. Judith grew more self-conscious with every bite she took.
But she was hungry, even if this might be her last meal on earth.
The thought occurred that the food might be poisoned, but she cast it aside. It was not their time to die yet.

Just as she finished her meal another man came in the room and whispered to Karl, excitedly. They spoke in a foreign language, but Judith guessed from their manner that the matter was serious.

Sharp commands were given at once, and she and Tom were pushed roughly through a door and down a dark hall. Muffled sounds and shouts came from behind them, but they moved on until all was silent around them. Before a closed door, a blindfold was tied over their eyes. Then they were ushered out and into a car.

JUDITH sat between Tom and Karl as they sped away through the night. Two other men sat on the little seats in front of them and Judith could guess they held guns on them. Tom's hand found hers and the pressure of his warm fingers was reassuring. Her own fingers clung tightly to his. Danger had brought her close to Tom again. He bent his head to touch hers.

"You're a swell girl, Judith," he whispered and his lips brushed her red hair.

Judith opened her mouth to speak but closed it again.

"If you persist in talking, you will be gagged," Karl threatened.
At the threat, Tom's body had grown rigid and the grip of his fingers had almost paralyzed her hand. She waited for him to relax and then she turned to face her enemy.

"Couldn't you take this thing
off my eyes?" she asked softly.

Without answering, he reached up and pulled the fold from around her head. She rubbed her eyes and then took in the gunmen watching her closely, guns in sight. She drew a deep breath.

"You can take his off, too," Karl told her, and she removed Burke's bandage.

After that, there was silence except for the purring of the engine
as they slipped through the night.
Judith wondered where her detective body-guards could be, but surmised they were responsible for their sudden exit from the house. She dared not try to look out the back of the car, and all the other windows were shaded.

Tom's fingers moved along her wrist, back and forth, searching for something. She realized in a moment what it was. Her watch.
She wanted to tell him what she had done with it, but couldn't.
She lay her other hand over his.

Finally, the car turned toward the shore where Judith could hear the roar of the breakers, and stopped at a deserted dock. The men got out and motioned Judith and Tom from the car. Karl and one of the guards walked in front and Heavy came behind them.

Again Tom's hand found hers and their fingers twined tightly as they walked down the boards over the water. She wanted desperately to whisper that she loved him and that all the things she had said
when they parted ways were lies.
But then... The pressure on her hand gripped harder.

Suddenly Tom plunged into the water, dragging her with him.
They went under with a mighty splash and the cold Pacific was breath-taking, but only for a second. She was an excellent swimmer and with Tom's hand to guide her, they dived for the protection of the wharf.

Patricia Ann Wigginton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. Wigginton of 802 Park street, Dixon, was laid to rest at Chapel Hill, Wednesday afternoon, June 24. Services were conducted from the Melvin funeral home in charge of Rev. R. S. Wilson, pastor of Bethel United Evangelical church, and Rev. W. J.
Martz of the Christian and Missionary Alliance Tabernacle. Mrs.
Robert Nice and Mrs. S. E. Walker sang "Safe In The Arms of Jesus" and "I Think When I Read
That Sweet Story of Old." Mrs.
R. K. Weyant provided the accompaniment.

Patricia was born in Dixon on September 14, 1931 and lived to be almost 11 years of age. The past year was spent in suffering due to a condition which doctors were unable to remedy, despite two hospital experiences. Until her sickness she attended the South Central school. In recent months when able, she attended the Christian and Missionary Alliance Sunday school, and before that the Bethel U. E. church where her parents are members. When relieved of pain she had a sunny disposition and liked to think of the things she learned in the Sunday school.

In addition to her parents who remain to mourn her departure, her paternal grandfather John Wigginton, one sister Freda, and five brothers, Charles, Harold, Donald, Louis and David Lee, also survive.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLOTT

Washington, July 2—Revolutionary extent of our economic dislo-cation due to the war is only now beginning to be fully apparent in detailed surveys conducted by government and private organizations here.

Getting richest are the old depressed national railroads, intercity buses and local street car lines in defense boom areas. They never ran at capacity before. Even the Erie railroad paid a dividend
the other day for the first time in history.

The rubber and gasoline saving program has taxed street and bus systems in many cities so severely that shoppers have been asked to stagger their hours outside the rush period, and in Washington all downtown stores are remaining open one night a week. Taxicab drivers are similarly enjoying unprecedented prosperity in boom towns.

Defense industries represent the next most profitable phase of war economy, but their condition is full of contrasts. Some small manufacturers, who never did well are enjoying amazing success making small defense gadgets, like noise filters for tank radios, special gun parts, and such.

Bulk of big business is in gigantic operations, but profits have not generally been increased, due to limitations specified in government contracts, the excess profits and other profits taxes. Many dividends are down.

And manufacturers who have not been able to convert to war business (largely metal shaping,
casting, ornamental chromium, copper, brass makers) are going into retirement. It is believed around 70,000 small manufacturers may fold their cards within the next year, which would be roughly one-third of the manufacturing units of the country.

The farmer is doing well. His income will be up two billion dollars this year, an increase of about 20 per cent. He is buying more and more from mail order houses and in small rubber towns, due to the gas and rubber pinch. In fact some experts here believe the small town may be restored to its pre-automobile dignity in American life before this war is over.

The only organizations which will get rich and stay there, however, are the union labor groups. Size of their large income increase is secret to them, but they are not subject to taxes and hence will not pay their war profits back into the government.

Some carpenters who never made more than $35 a week in their lives in rural areas in the midwest are getting $100 a week.
Sons just out of high school are in some sections getting more money than their fathers for unskilled work in booming defense areas.

But both real estate and building industries are feeling a painful pinch. Even in boom areas, no one wants to buy; everyone wants to sell.

Defense building is being handled by a comparatively small number of large contractors. The little builder was practically thrown out by a shortage of materials.

Small stores, handling one class of goods, are beginning to be forced out (radios, phonog-raphs, hardware, household appliances, wearing apparel). Also being eliminated are the small marginal stores which cannot get stocks.

The department stores, however, have ample stocks. In certain instances goods are being sold at less than the wholesale cost of reproduction (New York area report).

The great bulk of vacant stores on main street so far, however, are those formerly occupied by auto dealers.

Food and drug stores are doing well in most commodities, but in some rural areas, a large number of people have left for the Army or defense jobs, and these sections are suffering.

Wall Street is shot. The amusements, businesses offer contrasts as wide as industry. Those in boom areas, which do not depend on motor trade, are profiting, the others are losing out. Seaside beach resorts are living from hand to mouth, and so are the summer vacation places. Summer theaters are dead.

Doctors are scarce, due to Army calls upon the profession.
Those who are remaining in civilian service are able to collect their bills. Lawyers, on the other hand, are suffering.

The government has discovered more lawyers have come to Washington in search of jobs than any other class. A few big ones, handling large contracts, have profited enormously, however.

Supper Ride Is Enjoyed by 28 Equestrians

Fried catfish, hot dogs, and a picnic menu satisfied hearty appetites when 28 members of the Rock River Trail and Horseman's association returned to Sorrel Top stables last evening, after a two-hour ride through "Hazelwood" and Lowell park.

Riders on the trail last evening included Mr. and Mrs. Charles Finley, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dickey, Mr. and Mrs. Graham Oakford, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Killian and daughter Joan of Sterling, Mr. Hoster and Miss Mary McGava of Sterling, Miss Bertha Heeger, Ruth Foster, Charles Otto, Edward Lambert, Charles Lambert, Noble May, Joe Scholten of Roscoe, Ill., Arthur Kaithahn, Clarence Myers, Mike Coffey, Tommy Love, J. W. Pine, Mr. and Mrs. John Roe and son Johnny, and Ben Roe and son Bennie.

WA-TAN-YANS HAVE DINNER

Tiny American flags, in recognition of Independence Day, marked the covers at last evening's dinner meeting for business and professional women of Wa-Tan-Ye at Peter Piper's. Red, white and blue carnations reflected the patriotic motif.

Miss Margaret Nash, Mrs. Lucia Roberts, and Miss Lindbeck of Morrison were guests of the club.

Miss Ethel Crawford, Miss Phyllis Carson and Miss Margaret Minnihan composed the hostess committee. Miss Crawford conducted the business meeting, in the absence of the president, Miss Retta Jean Keithley, who is serving on the staff at Camp John Ralston.

VISIT IN EAST

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Legner will be returning to Dixon during the holiday weekend, after motoring east last Thursday, accompanied by Mrs. Legner's brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. John Howard Sterne (Mary Bennett). The Sternes, whose marriage took place at St. Anne's church here last month, are residing in Akron, where Dr. Sterne is to begin his internship.

After leaving Akron, the Legners spent some time in Youngstown with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Graham and son, continuing to Toledo to visit her uncle and aunt, the J. P. Curran at "Ottawa Hills." Mrs. Graham left for Dixon after her guests' departure, and is now visiting her brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. E. F. Legner.

Joan Ralston Makes Dixon Debut at "Reynoldswood"; Receives Some 175 Guests

The kind of a perfect summer day that all garden party hostesses hope for but rarely achieve did its bit to make the Dixon debut of Miss Joan Ralston on Thursday an unforgettable pleasure for the 175 or 200 guests attending. Mrs. John Gould Ralston of Dixon and Nantucket was presenting her attractive elder daughter at her hill-top estate, "Reynoldswood," near here, the party following by a few weeks Joan's formal coming-out party in a joint debut with Miss Barbara Wakeley of Kenilworth at the Saddle and Cycle club in Chicago.

Mother and daughter made a lovely picture as they stood before the fireplace in the huge living room to receive their guests. Oak boughs from the wooded slopes of the estate screened the mantle, and everywhere, there were bouquets of regal lilies, roses, gladioli, and numerous other blossoms which friends had sent from their own gardens.

Miss Ralston, a slender brunette, was wearing the very bouffant dress of white net, sprinkled with dewdrop sequins, in which she made her formal bow to society in Chicago last month. The cascade bouquet she carried contained stephanotis and sweetheart roses, and in her dark hair she wore a gardenia.

Her mother's dress of hydrangea blue silk organza dipped into a slight train in the back. The gown has a pale lavender under-dress, and at her shoulder, Mrs. Ralston was wearing a spray of orchids.

White contrasted with bright prints, pastels, and dark dresses among the feminine party-goers as the guests gathered about the tea tables on the lawn beyond the screened porch. Their frocks, together with the vari-hued flowers beyond made a colorful splash on the palette of velvet-smooth greensward.

Two long refreshment tables—one covered with yellow satin, and the other, with white satin—were placed beneath the magnificent white oak, beneath whose spreading branches Miss Ralston's late father, John Gould Ralston, and her uncle, the late Douglas Gray Harvey, liked to linger. The tree has been protected with a great deal of care and repeated surgery. Regal lilies trimmed both refreshment tables as centerpieces.

A trio of unofficial, but friendly, greeters were doing honors among the guests on the lawn. They were Mrs. Ralston's red chow, and two cocker spaniels, "Ruff" and "Tumble", which are beloved pets of Joan and her sub-debutante sister, Lucile.

The only out of town guests at yesterday's party were a young friend of Lucile's, Nancy Underwood of Chicago, and Mrs. Ralston's young nephew, Douglas Harvey, Jr., of New York. Arriving today to spend the Fourth of July holiday at "Reynoldswood" were Nancy's parents, the Thomas I. Underwoods, and young Frederick Johnson, Jr., of Bay City, Mich.

Miss Wakeley, who made her debut with Miss Ralston in Chicago, will be honored with a dinner-dance at Lake Geneva tomorrow evening, with the Philip K. Wrigleys entertaining for the young debutante. Miss Wakeley is spending some time with her parents, the Arthur W. Wakeleys of Kenilworth, at the lake. Last season, Barbara's older sister, "Blannie," had her debut dance at the Wrigley estate.

POSTAL EMPLOYEE OF OREGON CLAIMS BRIDE IN WEST

Miss Beth Hoganson of Stanaway, Wash., who was a student at the Church of God Bible training school in Oregon, the past year, and Harold Hardesty, son of Mrs. William Hardesty of Oregon, were married Sunday, June 21, at the bride's home in Stanaway. The couple left Oregon by motor on the preceding Friday, accompanied by James Mattison.

The couple will return to Oregon to reside. The bridegroom is employed at the Oregon post office.

TO MISSOURI

Mrs. Martin A. Tayman, Mrs. Gene Goddard, Miss Swanson and Miss Marian Duffey will be leaving early Saturday morning for Jefferson Barracks, near St. Louis, Mo., to spend the Fourth of July week end. Mrs. Tayman and Mrs. Goddard will visit their husbands, who are stationed at the camp.

BOSTON GUEST

Mrs. Milton Williams of Boston, who has been the house guest of the Misses Dora and Harriet Breed since Tuesday, left yesterday for Chicago to visit her sister-in-law, Mrs. Florence Williams, en route east.

EISENBERG-JEANBLANC

Miss Marie Alice Jeanblanc, daughter of the C. W. Jeanblancs, and Lyle Eisenberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Eisenberg, were married at 10 o'clock last Saturday morning at the rectory of St. Patrick's church in Amboy. The Rev. Thomas Calpin performed the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Murphy of Amboy, the bridegroom's brother-in-law and sister, attended the couple. Others attending the nuptial service were Mrs. Henry Eisenberg and daughter Rosemary.

The bride wore a light blue suit with white accessories, and Mrs. Murphy chose an ensemble of red and turf tan.

Both Mr. Eisenberg and his bride were graduated from Lee Center Community high school. The bridegroom is with the Green River ordnance plant. The couple will reside in the Van Amburg apartment in Lee Center.

EARLY JULY FINDS CAMP JOHN RALSTON SCOUTS KNEE-DEEP IN ENJOYMENT OF OUT-OF-DOORS

Drowsy midsummer hung over Girl Scout Camp John Ralston yesterday, when a few Scout parents paid a post-luncheon call to the camp, where 49 young girls are having the time of their young lives in an atmosphere of isolate silence, broken only by the lowing of browsing cattle in distance pastures and the strident call of crows circling over a low moor that is studded with cat-o'-nine-tails and Job's Tears.

Through a great expanse of blue vernal, brown-eyed-susans, and blossoming arrow root, the visitors made their way to the Pioneer unit's headquarters, the Edith Macy fireplace, where 13 Senior Scouts have gone adventuring in the true pioneer spirit, preparing meals at the outdoor kitchen, that are served at a long rustic table.

Cool breezes whispered among the century-old oak boughs overhead, and between the tents that dot the grounds, wild red raspberries and gooseberries are heavy with ripening fruit. Everywhere, evergreens stud the golden blanket of timothy. (Of the 10,000 evergreen seedlings set out two years ago under the commission of Mrs. John Devine, more than 80 per cent are now flourishing.)

Yesterday morning, the visitors found, the Senior Scouts had contrived a bulletin board from two shingles for their Pioneer unit, and had a trench, where air-tight pails of drinking water were kept cold. They had already completed a cupboard, well-stocked with staple groceries.

The intermediate Scouts made willow whistles, and constructed a mail box. (The privilege of distributing mail, incidentally, is a coveted honor awarded to Scouts for neatness in the tents and for application to general duties.)

Visitors may call at the camp from 3 to 5 p. m., any Sunday afternoon. In order that your daughter may get the most out of camp, the staff asks that you do not come at other times.

Parents and friends are requested to co-operate with the camp by not sending or bringing food of any kind to the camp. Special treats in which a unit or the whole camp shares may be arranged through the director.

If you want to rent rooms, use a classified ad in The Dixon Telegraph. Twenty-five words or less, one time, will cost 50 cents.

Bushelle-Smiley Vows Are Read

From Freeport comes news of the marriage of Miss Anna Mae Smiley of Freeport, daughter of the Howard Smileys of Amboy, and Robert Bushelle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Bushelle of Freeport, which took place Saturday afternoon at the rectory of St. Joseph's Catholic church in Freeport. The Rev. Fr. N. J. Berg performed the ceremony.

The bride's white organdy gown was trimmed with lace inserts in the yoke and train. A band of seed pearls held her fingertip net and lace veil in place, and her only jewelry was a gold cross, the bridegroom's gift. Her arm bouquet contained white roses and asperula.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rhode, the bridegroom's brother-in-law and sister, were the attendants. Mrs. Rhode was wearing yellow organdy. Sweet peas formed her bouquet and were worn in her hair.

After a reception at the home of the bridegroom's parents, the couple left on a short trip. The bride selected a jersey print dress with luggage brown accessories for traveling. After their return, they will be at home at 1340½ South Galena avenue.

The bride is a graduate of Lorene's School of Beauty Culture, and has been employed at the Freeport Beauty shop for the past two years. Mr. Bushelle is with the Micro-Switch corporation in Freeport.

Blackouts also apply to business houses. Night lights at business houses during a blackout must not be visible for more than 25 feet—which is practically no light at all.

Manager Has Resigned

Your correspondent and local circulation manager has tendered her resignation to the Dixon Evening Telegraph, terminating more than a year of association with the newspaper. During that time she has made many friends, and has worked with the finest type of American boyhood as carriers. The many, many acts of thoughtfulness and kindly consideration are greatly recalled.

Anyone who is interested in assuming the work should telephone number 144 at once to arrange an interview with a Dixon Evening Telegraph representative from Dixon. Naturally, applications may also be made direct with the Dixon office.

A "Blackout" Tonight?

There is some hint that Rochelle will experience its first "blackout" tonight. With stores open doing Saturday's business tonight, preceding the Fourth, there is some question concerning that night, but here is how we are to know:

The "red" whistle—the special air raid siren at the Caron Spinning Company—will blow a "wild cat" whistle for two minutes, during which time everyone should take the necessary steps to put homes and business places in darkness.

"The red" whistle, explains William Townsend, chief air raid warden, means a danger whistle. A wild cat whistle is one which goes from low to high, like a siren. When this whistle is heard, it is a blackout.

At the end of the blackout, the "all clear" whistle, which is one long, loud blast, will be blown for two minutes without cessation. When this whistle is heard, persons may resume normal life.

"Blackout" Instructions

No home or building shall have a light that may be visible from the exterior. Any home may have lights, however, provided the windows and doors are covered so that no light or shadow is visible from the outside of the house. Light colored window shades, especially, are not suitable for covering during a blackout since they let too much light through.

All cars must pull to the curb and turn off all lights which may be visible from the outside. All city street lights and other lights controlled by the city must be turned off. The blackout will last for fifteen minutes. Shoppers or motorists must remain for that length of time.

Wardens and Districts

The Rochelle Leader has published a map of the city of Rochelle this week, outlining the eight districts. In general, they are as follows:

District I—Business section, including the railroad to Fifth Avenue, and North Third street to North Sixth street. William Kassul, chief air raid warden in district I, will be found during the blackout, at the Hub theatre.

District II—Between the railroad and Sixth Avenue and west of North Lincoln Highway. Chief C. E. Kepner will be at 413 Fourth Avenue, during blackout.

District III—West of Lincoln Highway, between Sixth and Eighth avenues, and the entire northwest part of town, west of North Ninth street. Homer Heath is Chief Warden in this area, and will be at 930 North 10th street.

District IV—East of North Lincoln Highway, north of the railroad, except for the business district, (No. 1.) Eugene Goss, 527 North Tenth street is chief here.

District V—Between North Lincoln Highway and North Ninth street, north of Tenth Avenue. Clarence Oakes of 1038 North 7th street is in charge here.

District VI—West of Seventh street, south of the tracks, Bent Hansen is in charge and will be at 227 South 10th street.

District VII—South of Chicago and Milwaukee tracks (north), south to Kyte creek. Chief Warden is Harry Brough at the C. B. & Q. depot.

District VIII—All south of the creek, including the Caron Spinning Mills. B. F. Braiden of 500 South Third street is the warden in this area.

Movie Admission Increase

Inasmuch as construction of the new unopened Gem theatre here has cost thousands of dollars, and recent regulations by the city council make it doubtful if it will be able to open, the present Hub theatre, owned by the Algers Circuit also, is increasing prices five cents, to partially cover the apparent loss. No date has been set for hearing the suit in court. As the Gem is well toward completion, the new ordinance may well cost its total loss. Owners of the present building housing the Hub theatre, desiring higher rent, virtually eliminate competition. The new ordinance was opposed by the Hub manager, Wm. Kassul, and approved by prospective manager G. W. Kruger of Hinsdale.

Those who approve of the present theatre, seem to be of two classes: those who are "fans" and approve of the best pictures which are shown exclusively in the Hub theatre in the future, with the less expensive to be shown in the Gem theatre; and those who are not especially interested in contracting of pictures, but resent action which restricts free competition. Members of both groups are signing a petition circulating for the repeal of the new ordinance.

AT THE AGE when a boy is "under construction" . . . when he is going through his formative years at school . . . that is the time when his basic knowledge and experience are most likely to determine his future.

Academic work or "book learning" is increasingly necessary in this busy, highly competitive world. It is a decided advantage for a boy to couple up his school work with a Newspaper Route.

Utilizing but a small part of his spare time, a newspaper boy gains a practical business experience of inestimable value . . . it is a schooling that can't be learned in books, yet it sharpens wits, develops eagerness and alertness which accounts for the high percentage of newspaper boys who are above average in school. Of importance too, they are making good money . . . they EARN while they LEARN.

When boys pass 'teen' age or graduate from school, they start out on that long road of destiny. Newspaper Boys are well equipped to Travel At Their Own Risk . . . thanks to one of America's foremost industries . . . The Newspaper.

Gov. Green Asks for Survey of Increased Number of Idle Men

Springfield, Ill., July 3—(AP)—Governor Green's office said today that state Labor Director Francis B. Murphy had been asked to make a survey to determine why "large numbers" of Illinois workers are claiming unemployment compensation at the same time war production is demanding more skilled workmen.

The announcement said that the sudden rise in unemployment "indicates a serious dislocation of the labor market". Investigators were told to study the effects of priorities, conversion of plants, price ceilings, restrictions on credit buying and to determine if Illinois is getting "its fair share of war contracts".

Communities in which the survey will be conducted include Chicago, Peoria, Springfield, Quincy, East St. Louis, Rockford, Rock Island, Sterling, Joliet, Danville, Herrin, Harrisburg, Murphysboro, Cairo, Waukegan and Chicago Heights.

NEW YORK - RED SOX OPEN CRUCIAL SERIES TONIGHT; WILLIAMS FINED

Boston Has Chance to Tie Yanks

Play Three Games With Champs; Cronin Docks Ted for Loading

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
The fourth of July fireworks in the major leagues are slated to be set off at twilight tonight in Fenway Park at Boston where the rocketing Red Sox and the sputtering New York Yankees will collide in the most important series of the midsummer.

A mere three games separate the clubs in the standings and the game at 6 p. m. (EWT) tonight and tomorrow's holiday doubleheader will give the Red Sox a chance to move into a tie for the American League lead.

Till yesterday Boston had at least a slender chance of taking over exclusive possession of first place on Independence Day, traditionally the date for tagging pennant winners, but weather kept both clubs idle.

Williams Will Play
It took none of the lustre away from the Red Sox-Yankees series however, and chiefly furnished a lull during which Manager Joe Cronin fined slugger Ted Williams $250 and lectured him in front of the entire club for loafing.

The Sox have won 20 of their 24 games and with Williams presumably chastened and ready to make his bat do his talking, they may add additional bruises to the already battered world champions, who have lost 11 of 17 games since leaving New York nearly three weeks ago. Boston already has won five out of eight games from the Yanks this season.

If New York is able to win the series, though, the champs may be hard to head. On this date a year ago they had precisely the same lead they now hold—three games—and won in a romp.

The Cleveland Indians and Detroit Tigers both took advantage of the idleness of New York and Boston yesterday to tighten the boundaries of the first division.

The Indians completed a sweep of their four-game series with the Chicago White Sox last night with a 7-5 triumph before 29,000 fans who turned out at Comiskey Park for an Army-Navy Relief affair that netted $33,352.

Rally Fails
Lefty Lovill (Chubby) Dean kept the Sox subdued on three hits for eight innings while the Tribe gave him a 7-1 lead on 13 hits, two by Dean himself, but Chicago rallied for four runs in the ninth and it took two relief hurlers, Joe Heving and Harry Eisenstat, to smother the fire.

This lifted Cleveland within 6½ games of the lead.

Detroit, in fourth place, edged up to 8½ games by beating the St. Louis Browns, 5-4. Big Al Benton obtained his fifth successive victory, but was staggering at the finish.

In the only game played in the National League the St. Louis Cardinals extended their winning streak to four games by beating the Pittsburgh Pirates, 3-1, on the five-hit hurling of John Beazley, who had a shutout till the ninth.

JIM JOHNSTON IS SPEECHLESS

By SID FEDER
New York, July 3—(AP)—You'll never believe this, but Jimmy Johnston was just about speechless today.

For he had just learned that rapid Robert Pastor is turning his back on a little matter of a hundred and fifty thousand dollars, give or take a few thousand, that he could pick up in a few fights this summer.

"Just think," moaned Jimmy, "here I am with the one real 'live' heavyweight around, now that Louis and Conn are in the Army. I'm getting offers for him every day—and what does he say? He doesn't want to fight until the middle of August because he wants some time to play golf."

The offers Johnston has received so far make a pile big enough to fill his derby. He can get $25,000 for Rapid Robert to take on Harry Bobo in Pittsburgh or Cleveland or both. There's $20,000 waiting for a return go with Jimmy Bivins in Cleveland and $25,000 more if he wants to maul with Melio Bettina in Chicago, and $15,000 to fight Lou Nova in Chicago and $10,000 for Lee Savold in Detroit or Toledo, and either $7,500 or $5,000 to appear against a couple of lesser known lights in Toledo.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

(By The Associated Press)
Pinkie Higgins and Bill Hitchcock, Tigers—Higgins hit home run and Hitchcock doubled two runs across in four-run rally that clinched victory over Browns.

John Beazley, Cardinals—Beat Pirates with five-hit hurling.

Ray Mack, Indians—Hit triple and single and scored two runs to lead attack on White Sox.

Major League All-Star Lineups Are Announced

A. A. Title Race Still Very Close

Kansas City Tightens Hold on First Place; Rest Are Bunched

(By The Associated Press)
The chase in the merry American Association still was as tight as a new shoe today with Columbus having the closest fit after jamming into third place.

Kansas City pasted Indianapolis, 10 to 2, last night, collecting its 44th victory in 73 games for a good grip on the league lead, but the next four places in the standings remained tightly laced.

The Red Birds blanked the Millers, 2-0, behind pitcher Ted Wilks' four-hitter. It was his second straight shutout and came after a warm double with Owen Scheetz. Scheetz didn't give ground until the seventh when Eddie Lukon smashed his 11th homer of the season. The Miller twirler retired for an unsuccessful pinch hitter in the eighth and the Birds froze the victory with another run when Pep Young doubled.

Louisville Whips Brewers
Tony Flarito delivered Louisville's 6-2 win over Milwaukee. He poled a homer with the bases filled in the eighth at a time when there were two outs and a count of three and two against him. It was Flarito's second home run in two nights.

After winning six straight games, youthful Ray Poat of Indianapolis was whammed for his first defeat by Kansas City. The Tribe made four errors which shook his confidence while the Blues rushed across three runs in the first inning off four hits and blasted out four more in the ninth after leading, 6-2, up to that point.

Toledo, after hanging up five runs in the first inning, barely edged through on an 8-6 victory over St. Paul. The Saints scored four runs in the second but failed to close the gap as pitchers Bud Parmelee—who replaced starter Bill Cox—and Fritz Ostermueller held them in check the rest of the route.

Frick Wants to Win All-Star Tussle

New York, July 3—(AP)—Ford Frick, who doesn't mind losing sleep if it will keep his National leaguers from losing the All-Star game, is staying awake these July evenings to think up ways of making baseball's dream game a nightmare for the American League.

The two picked squads of the major leagues will square off at the Polo grounds for their tenth annual outing at 5:30 p. m. (CWT) Monday, a shindig in which the president of the National league has a twofold interest.

He would like, probably in the order named, (1) to fatten the baseball equipment fund for the armed forces by $100,000, and (2) to flatten the American leaguers for a good many reasons by any legal method.

To Rest Pitchers
Toward those ends he is working tirelessly this week, making sure, among other things, that there will be enough customers on hand to reach the first objective and enough pitchers from his own circuit to achieve the second.

"You know, I certainly want to win this ball game," Frick said. "I have asked the managers concerned to rest five pitchers for the two days preceding the All-Star game, if possible."

The five pitchers are Johnny Vander Meer of Cincinnati, Cliff Melton of New York, Claude Passeau of Chicago, Whitlow Wyatt of Brooklyn and Mort Cooper of St. Louis.

Frick did not mention Bucky Walters and Paul Derringer of the Reds, who complete the league All-Star mound staff, since it was obvious that Cincinnati must use some of its better hurlers over the week end.

PLATAK IN NEW YORK

New York—Second class petty officer Joseph Platak has been transferred from the Great Lakes Naval Training Station to New York. The seven-time national handball champion did not defend the title last spring because of Navy duties.

DEFENSE AGAINST MIZE

New York—Second basemen are playing in short right field against Johnny Mize and occasionally throw out the New York Giants' first baseman on batted balls that otherwise would be singles.

It's Useless, Ulysses

Rumbling along the baseline in full armor, catcher Otto Danning of the Cleveland Indians is about to tag first baseman Ulysses Lupien of the Boston Red Sox, who is trapped between third base and the plate.

Some Say Leo the Lip's Punishment Too Light

NEA Service
New York, July 3—Lightness of Leo Durocher's punishment for the Brooklyn manager's run-in with Umpire Tom Dunn caused considerable discussion.

"What," some of the boys asked, "became of the five-day suspension that used to be automatically clamped on an athlete or pilot assaulting an arbiter?"

Lippy Durocher refused to leave the premises after vigorously protesting a decision ruling Pee Wee Reese out at first base. He held up the game for 10 minutes, repeatedly kicked dirt over Dunn's trousers and shoes and finally socked the man in blue in the face with a wet towel.

And Leo the Lip got was three days and a $50 fine. He served the three days by directing his club from a convenient and cool spot in the grandstand. Money means little in Flatbush. Larry MacPhail has plenty of it.

Pinelli Has No Trouble
President Ford Frick might have been too lenient with Durocher, and I'm not condoning the fiery Gowanus Guide's inexcusable conduct, but did it ever occur to you that some umpires have vastly more trouble with managers and players than others?

Babe Pinelli and Beans Reardon of the National League—to name two—rarely find it necessary to give a combatant the bum's rush and they deal with the same hired hands who too often have the customers chucking bottles and such at George Magerkurth and some more.

Pinelli and Reardon have a way of handling the Durochers and Frank Frisch.

And that is as important to an umpire as a good pair of eyes, judgment and agility.

Uses System
When a Durocher or Frisch rushes at Pinelli to dispute a debatable decision, the conversation runs something like this:

Durocher: "You missed that one, Babe, and it hurt us. What's the matter with you?"

Pinelli: "It was close. I might have missed it. Didn't you ever make an error?"

Pinelli lets Durocher sputter for a few seconds, and then advises him that it's time to resume play. He doesn't rub an angry participant the wrong way. That is the principal reason why he has never lost an argument.

Bill Klem, the daddy of them all, had the same trick. When tempers ran high, the Old Arbitrator drew his famous line.

"Don't cross that, young man," he'd warn, quietly. The player respected the old man, knew he meant what he said, and would walk off, talking to himself.

An umpire can't be a Meat Head. It's pure psychology, Watson.

WARD EXPECTED IN AMATEUR MATCH

By NEA Service
Spokane—Although the ranks have been hit by the war, a representative field is expected in the Western Amateur at the Manito Golf and Country club here, July 7-12.

Marvin Ward hopes to get leave from the Army Air Corps. Johnny Dawson and Wilford Wehrle are likely to compete.

If Bud Ward annexes the title again he will join Chick Evans as the only three-time winner of the tournament which dates back to 1899.

NEITHER LEAGUE HAS NAMED ITS STARTING HURLER

St. Louis Cooper Battery Almost Certain to Be Starter for N. L.

By JUDSON BAILEY
New York, July 3—(AP)—The public was given a peep today at the probable starting lineups for the major league All-Star show that will be staged in the gloaming at the Polo Grounds Monday.

Neither Joe McCarthy nor Leo Durocher, the rival managers, was able to name his starting pitcher because of the two doubleheaders that face every club in the big leagues this week end. But assuming that righthanded hurlers are on the mound at the beginning, the batting orders tentatively will be:

American League
D. DiMaggio, Boston, rf
Boudreau, Cleveland, ss
Williams, Boston, lf
J. DiMaggio, New York, cf
McQuinn, St. Louis, 1b
Gordon, New York, 2b
Keltner, Cleveland, 3b
Dickey, New York, c

National League
Brown, St. Louis, 2b
Vaughan, Brooklyn, 3b
Reiser, Brooklyn, cf
Mize, New York, 1b
Ott, New York, rf
Medwick, Brooklyn, lf
W. Cooper, St. Louis, c
Miller, Boston, ss

Owen Might Start
Mort Cooper, star of the St. Louis Cardinals, is almost certain to be the opening pitcher for the National League and Durocher specified that his younger brother, Walker Cooper, would do his receiving. However, if something should prevent starting the Redbirds' big righthander, who has won 11 games and scored six shutouts, Mickey Owen of the Dodgers will be the catcher.

The identity of the American's starting pitcher is a deep-dyed mystery and the assignment might fall to almost anyone of the nine hurlers on the squad, with one of the Yankees, Red Ruffing, Ernie Bonham or Spud Chandler, favored. Bucky Harris, Washington manager and one of the All-Star coaches, has announced he will save Sid Hudson, and since big Al Benton of Detroit worked yesterday he also is sure to be ready.

The National League lineup has a powerful raiding party ready for any righthanded pitcher, because the first five batters are left-handed swingers.

However, Durocher is prepared for the remote possibility that the American League might lead off with one of its lefthanders, unlucky Edgar Smith of the Chicago White Sox or young Hal Newhouse of Detroit.

Brown bats from either side of the plate, but in the event a southpaw starts, the National League would use Billy Herman, Brooklyn, 2b; Bob Elliott, Pittsburgh, 3b; Terry Moore, St. Louis, cf; and Frank McCormick, Cincinnati, 1b, all righthanders at the top of the batting order.

EVANSVILLE BEES INCREASE LEAD

(By The Associated Press)
The Evansville Bees, who have won 18 of their last 23 games in a surge to the Three Eye league leadership, led Cedar Rapids today by a full game.

The Bees stung Springfield, 2 to 0, last night while the Raiders were defeated by Waterloo, 10 to 4.

The Bees' pitcher, Loconto, hand-cuffed the Browns with two hits while his mates collected seven and rushed across the winning two runs in the eighth inning.

Waterloo pelted pitcher Stroupe with 11 hits, driving in three runs in the fourth and five in the ninth to set down Cedar Rapids with apparent ease.

Decatur swept a doubleheader from Madison, 3 to 1 and 11 to 7. Although outthit in the opener, the Commies managed to push across three runs in the sixth which decided the outcome. Seven runs in two innings sent Decatur ahead to stay in the nightcap although again outthit, 14-11. In the seventh, the Commies' Rabe clubbed a four-bagger with two men on.

Tonight's schedule: Waterloo at Cedar Rapids; Decatur at Madison; (only games scheduled.)

SKATING-DANCING PARTY
A five-piece orchestra furnished the music for the four-hour skating and dancing party at the Dome skating rink Wednesday night. About 150 couples skated from 8 until 10 o'clock, after which they danced till twelve.

LOU BOUDREAU GIVES INDIANS COLLEGE FIGHT

Chicago, July 3—(AP)—Lou Boudreau, the Cleveland manager, yanked off his cap.

"See any gray hairs," he laughed.

There wasn't a one—not that you'd expect to find a crop of silver threads thatching the roof of a 24-year-old fellow. The major leagues' youngest skipper wanted to prove he's keeping his youth in a job that easily could snatch it away.

"I'll be 25 July 17 and I still feel as young as my age," he chided. "Don't know why people keep asking me how many sleepless nights I've had and how I'm standing up under the strain of being a manager."

Boudreau had watched—and helped—the Indians down the White Sox, 7-2, for their second straight win over the Chicagoans. Those seven runs were crowded into the first inning as the Tribe swished around the bases with the enthusiasm of college boys winning their first game.

Whoops and yells bubbled from the Indians after that big inning, showing the college spirit. Boudreau brought with him from the University of Illinois has spread spontaneously through the team. The young manager likes to think that spirit is a big reason why his club is gaining on the league leading Yanks and second place Boston Red Sox.

"If there's one thing I demand of my players," he confided, "it's hustle and plenty of it. Keep 'em running the ball all the time."

"Just look at those boys hustle," he beamed, pointing out several of the 30-year-old veterans who were gazing around the field. "They're really got fire. That's what I like."

12 SIGN UP FOR RED CROSS COURSE

About twelve people have already signed up with Don Clark, life guard at Lowell Park and Red Cross water safety chairman for Lee county, to take the Red Cross life saving course which he is offering. Instruction will start Tuesday at 10 o'clock and will be given at that hour each week on Tuesday and Friday. He will give instruction for both juniors and seniors, conducting the courses at the same time. Girls, as well as boys, may sign up. Clark announced that the time needed to complete the course depends on the aptitude and ambition of the individual student.

Starting next Friday at 11 o'clock, Don will give swimming lessons for children between the ages of 8 and fifteen. This is a part of the Dixon playground program, and all those interested should contact the supervisor at Truman, Dement, Kiwanis, John Dixon playgrounds or Don Clark.

Bevilacqua Beats Vols

Lou Bevilacqua, who pitches for the Chattanooga Lookouts in the Southern Association under the name Lou Bevil, distinguished himself early this week by beating the red-hot Nashville Volunteers, 8 to 1. The Vols had come to Chattanooga with a record of eighteen wins in 22 games and had won the first game of the doubleheader with the Lookouts, 9 to 2.

Lou-in-the-Clutch Bevil, as one Chattanooga sports writer called him, immediately cooled them down. Lou had a two-hitter up to the sixth and a shutout until one was out in the ninth.

Here is what this same writer, Wirt Gammon, had to say about Lou in his column:

The fans had much fun at the ball park, particularly in cheering Ventura and Lou Bevil, and in watching the Latin-Americans hit hard and run bases with daring effectiveness.

They shouted words of encouragement to Bevil all through the second game, appearing to share his every emotion at every turn.

It was "Throw it by 'em, Lou", and "Take your time, Lou", and "Don't lose him, Lou", and "Come on, Lou".

Lou threw it by 'em, too. He kept them loose with burning fast balls on their collar buttons and followed with curves that snapped and bit.

The fans reveled in it.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON
Wide World Sports Columnist
New York, July 3—Reminder: Tomorrow is Independence Day, traditionally given over to recreation and patriotic observance. . . . It also is USO day, when spectators at sports events in many places will be asked to contribute, and the day when most tennis and golf clubs will hold Red Cross tournaments. . . . Get the idea? . . . The famous battery of George Earnshaw and Mickey Cochrane will be reunited when Mickey's Great Lakes navy players get a workout against Fort Custer, reinforced by army members of the All-Star service squad, at Detroit tomorrow. . . . Fourteen Marquette footballers are working this summer in Milwaukee breweries. . . . If that's the way to toughen up, they will just grin and bear it.

SERVICE DEPT.

That sailor looking for the mailman at the Great Lakes naval training station (well, then one of them) is John Dungan Rigney, the former White Sox pitcher. He usually is looking for a letter from his brother, Edward, who is with an army unit in Celand.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR

Jimmy Murphy, Canton, Ill., Daily Ledger: "What's wrong with the Cardinals? That question is being asked wherever baseball is discussed. The answer is found in the National league statistics—Runs batted in, Mize, New York, first; hits, Mize, first; home runs, Mize, first; runs scored, Mize, second. . . . The Cards certainly cannot be called Mize-ly this season."

CLEANING THE CUFF

Pittsburgh already has about $25,000 in the till for the Bucs' Army-Navy game next Thursday; and the Chicago All-Star football game, which won't be played until Aug. 28, is over the $50,000 mark. Ray Evans, All-Big Six football and baseball player from Kansas U., is keeping in shape pitching for a Lawrence, Kan., softball team. . . . The last time out Ray pitched a no-hitter and socked two triples. . . . "Marshall and Gilbert will not fight here next Monday night"—headline in the Sacramento Bee. . . . We thought Admiral Hasley and his boys had taken care of that several months ago.

SERVICE ALL-STAR LINEUP IS A BIG MILITARY SECRET

Cochrane Has Too Much Baseball Talent to Choose From

Chicago, July 3—(AP)—One of today's biggest military secrets is locked up in the head of Lieut. Mickey Cochrane.

It's the starting lineup for his Army-Navy All-Stars against the major league's All-Stars in the war relief baseball benefit in Cleveland Tuesday.

Maybe Cochrane is surrounded with so much talent that he's waiting until the last minute to choose his starters—and then he'll do it by picking straws. At any rate, he won't talk.

"It's a military secret," he smiles.

Sailors Beat Soldiers
Last night when the Great Lakes naval training station team beat Chanute Field, 7 to 1, in a preliminary to the White Sox-Cleveland game, pitcher Fred Hutchinson was used part time. Hutchinson, Detroit's high priced player a few years back, now is stationed at the Norfolk navy yard and has been working out with Great Lakes for the All-Star contest. But he was the only All-Star to perform, although Mickey offered to lend Chanute Field some of his gang, only to be turned down.

Cochrane's biggest problem at present appears to be to find a third baseman. There are more than enough stars to fill the other spots, especially the pitching chore with Johnny Rigney, Bob Feller, Hutchinson, Mickey Harris and Hank Grodzicki around.

Ernie Andrs probably will hold down third. A member of the Great Lakes team, the former Louisville American Association player has impressed Cochrane and would become seventh Great Lakes member to make the All-Star squad.

FANS WILL GIVE BINOCULARS AT ARLINGTON PARK

Chicago, July 3—(AP)—Proceeds of Arlington Park's Stars and Stripes handicap tomorrow will go to Navy and Army Relief, but the navy will benefit further as the fans kick in with their binoculars.

The glasses will be turned in to navy men at special booths. A token payment of a dollar will be made, inasmuch as the navy cannot accept gifts. The donor's name will be inscribed on the glasses and wherever possible he will be informed of the name of the ship on which they are in use.

Twelve horses, including Best Seller, the Equipse mile winner, are expected to run in the holiday handicap before an estimated 50,000 customers. That large a starting field would gross a purse of $13,125 with a net of $9,000 to the winner.

Best Seller, under 122 pounds, will be top weight in the absence of Calumet Farm's Whirlaway, which is keeping an engagement in the $30,000 Butler handicap at Empire City.

R. A. Coward's reformed plater, Marriage, is regarded one of Best Seller's chief rivals.

STATE HOSPITAL CELEBRATION

There will be a big celebration at the Dixon State hospital tomorrow with a carnival and a baseball game, between the employees and patients, featuring the program.

CAMDEN STARTER

Camden, N. J.—George Palmer will be the starter at the Garden State Park meeting opening at the new track here, July 13. At Delaware Park now, Palmer served in the same capacity at Santa Anita.

Sunday School Picnic

The Presbyterian Sunday school picnic will be held on Saturday afternoon, the Fourth of July, at Griffith park with supper at 8:00 p. m. Games and contests under the supervision of George Stephan will begin at 4 o'clock. Please bring your own table service, sandwiches and a dish to pass. The committee has solicited for meat and potatoes. Coffee and ice cream will be furnished. In case of bad weather the picnic will be held in the church with supper at 6 p. m.

Open Air Movies

The managers of "Bun-e's Hutch" are announcing open air movies to be presented on Saturday evening July 4th at 9:00 o'clock. "The Army Mystery," with Erick Linden and Ann Doran will be the feature show. No admission will be charged but a collection will be taken.

Personals

Mrs. W. C. Rehbein, daughter Helen and son George of Appleton, Wisconsin, are guests this week at the home of Mrs. Rhebein's mother, Mrs. O. W. Griffith. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Moore of Prophetstown visited Sunday with their parents, Mrs. Henry Krug and Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Moore.

Mrs. John Wagner entertained the members of the Birthday club at her home Saturday in honor of the birthday anniversary of Mrs. George Putman, one of their number. Visiting and games were enjoyed, after which refreshments of ice cream, cake, wafers and coffee were served by the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kaecher of near Prophetstown were entertained Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Kaecher.

Miss Frances Walls of Rockford was a week end guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Wagner.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Faber and son Jerry of Chicago visited Sunday evening with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Faber.

Private Edward Miller of Camp Polk, Louisiana, is enjoying a week's furlough at the home of his mother, Mrs. William Miller.

Virilis Todd who was recently inducted into the United States Army is now stationed with Co. D, 28th Signal Training Bn., at Camp Crowder, Missouri.

Miss Marion Aschenbrenner submitted to an appendicitis operation on Saturday morning at the Dixon hospital.

Sunburn Oil for White Pigs is Latest Style

East Lansing, Mich., July 3—(AP)—Sunburn lotion for white pigs is the latest barnyard wrinkle recommended by Michigan State college's animal husbandry department.

"It seems that white pigs suffer from sunburn in pasture during the summer," the department bulletin says, suggesting use of a "perfumeeless" lotion composed of equal parts of lime water and raw linseed oil.

It was believed that a person who ate potatoes daily would die within seven years, in Colonial days.

NOTICE OF PUBLICATION

State of Illinois, County of Lee, ss.
IN THE CIRCUIT COURT
Charles I. Pontius and Edith E. Pontius, Husband and Wife, as Joint Tenants and Not as Tenants in Common, Plaintiffs vs.

William L. Pontius, William Pontius, Goldie Coleman, Louis R. Berrettini, Caroline M. Berrettini, and Franc L. Ingraham, Administratrix of the Estate of Rebecca Pontius, deceased, Defendants.

Affidavit of non-residence of William L. Pontius and William Pontius impleaded with the above defendants having been filed in the office of the Clerk of the Circuit Court of said County, notice is therefore hereby given to the said non-resident defendants that the plaintiffs filed their complaint in said Court on the 3rd day of July, A. D. 1942, and that thereupon a Summons issued out of said Court, wherein said suit is now pending, returnable on the First Monday in the month of August, A. D. 1942, as by law required. Now, unless you, the said non-resident defendants above named, William L. Pontius and William Pontius file your answer or otherwise make your appearance in said cause in said Court, held in the Court House in the City of Dixon, Illinois, on or before the Third Monday in the month of August, A. D. 1942, the said plaintiffs may take judgment against you by default.
E. S. Rosecrans, Clerk.

Ulrich-Engelhart Wedding

A lovely June wedding was solemnized Monday, June 29th at 10 a. m. at the Brooklyn Lutheran church, when the lives of Virginia Mae Ulrich and Leroy W. Engelhart of Paw Paw, were united in marriage by Rev. L. G. Grosshans in a double ring ceremony in the presence of the immediate families and a few close friends. The church was decorated with baskets of beautiful garden flowers. Mrs. L. J. Grosshans played before the ceremony, the following numbers, "Tenderesse", "Voldheim" and "Twilight Hour." During the ceremony she played "O Perfect Love."

The bride was given in marriage by her father, entering to the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March. The bride and groom left the altar to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March. The bride was lovely in her gown fashioned of white velvety embroidered silk mousseline de soie in princess style, sweetheart neck line, bodice and yoke of rose point chantilly lace, with long tight sleeves running to a point over the hands. A finger tip circular silk tulle veil caught to a seed pearl tiara with bluish veil. She wore a gold heart shaped locket, a gift of the groom and a gold bracelet worn by her mother on her wedding day. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and baby breath. She was attended by Ruth Florschuetz of Sublette, a cousin, who wore similar to the bride in yellow silk mousseline de soie and a yellow tiara and carried a mixed bouquet of flowers also a pastel costume bracelet, a gift of the bride. David Engelhart, a brother of the groom, served him as best man. The groom, the bride's father and best man wore white boutonnieres. The bride's mother wore blue silk print with white accessories and the groom's mother wore green silk print with white, both wore corsages of pink roses and baby breath. Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents to seventeen guests. The table centerpiece was a lovely three tier wedding cake, decorated in white, yellow and blue and topped with a miniature bride and groom. The cake was cut by the bride. Table waitresses were Mildred Florschuetz, a cousin of the bride and Lucille Brucker, a close friend and Mrs. David Engelhart. The bride graduated with the class of 1940 from the Mendota Township high school and is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Ulrich and has been very active in clubs and various organizations. The groom graduated from the Rollo high school with the class of 1938 and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Engelhart of Paw Paw. He was formerly employed at the Kindelberger garage but for the past year has been employed by the Bell Telephone Co. in Chicago, where the happy couple will reside. After dinner they left on a trip through Wisconsin.

For going away the bride wore a sport suit of green silk print with a linen jacket and white and turf accessories. Heartiest congratulations are extended to the happy couple.
